DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Duley (US 5,459,671).

Regarding claim 1, Duley discloses a method for indicating the battery status in a portable computer including all subject matters as follow:

retrieving battery status data from a basic input-output system (BIOS) on a computing device, the battery status data reflecting of a characteristic of the battery (46, col. 5, lines 4-39);

comparing the retrieved battery status data to a predefined battery status threshold stored on the computing device (col. 11, lines 50- 67 and col. 12, lines 1-28); and based on the comparison of the battery status data to the predefined battery status threshold, providing a battery status indicator to an applicant program on the computing display (12, 20) via user interface (col. 5, lines 4-10); and

Regarding claim 2, as mention in claim 1 above, Duley discloses the retrieving battery status data from a basic input-output system (BIOS) on the computing device comprises retrieving battery status data relating to the voltage of the battery from the BIOS on the computing device (col. 1, lines 41-55).

Regarding claim 3, Duley disclose a software placed within a microcontroller (16) that monitors the charge gauge integrated circuit (18) and obtains battery data and battery status information, wherein the microcontroller (16) communicates the battery information to a system microprocessor (10) which initiating a BIOS interrogating routine to retrieve battery status data from a BIOS in the computing device (col. 5, lines 14-39).

Regarding claim 5, refer to claim 1 above.

Regarding claim 6, as shown in Figure 2, Duley discloses displaying the battery status indicator comprises displaying a gauge representative of a current battery status (24, col. 5, line 40 through col 6, line 5).

Regarding claim 7, Duley also disclose that the predefined battery status threshold is user-definable by level setting (28, col. 5, line 60 through col. 6, line 5).

Regarding claim 8, refer to claim 1 above.

Regarding claim 9, refer to claim 3 above.

Response to Argument

3. Applicant's argument filed on 11/19/2002 have been fully consider but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's Argument:

a. Applicant argues that Duley does not teach or suggest displaying the battery status indicator via a user interface of the applications program.

Response to Argument:

In response to Attorney Remarks, all of the limitations have been addressed in the action record, a. Examiner believes that Duley teaches the use of displaying the battery status indicator on the icon display (20; col. 5, lines 10-14).

Based on the above teaching, it is believes that the limitation of claims 1 and 8 are still met by the reference (Duley). Therefore, the rejection to claims 1-3 and 5-9 are still maintained.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
